<h2 style="font family:monospace; color: red;">INSTAGRAM</h2> <h3 style="font-family:monospace; color: white;"> Instagram is a visual-only site. Instagram's only aim is to allow users to post images or videos with their audience, unlike Facebook, which relies on both text and pictures, and Twitter, which relies solely on text. On Facebook, you could create an album with 100 images.</h3>

<tr>
<h2 style="font family:monospace; color: red;">TWITTER</h2>
<h3 style="font-family:monospace; color: white;"> Twitter is a social media platform that allows friends, family, and coworkers to interact and keep in touch by exchanging short, frequent messages. Tweets are short messages that can include photographs, videos, links, and text. These messages appear on your profile, are forwarded to your followers, and may be found via Twitter search.</h3>

<h2 style="font family:monospace; color: red;">TIKTOK</h2>
<h3 style="font-family:monospace; color: white;"> TikTok is a social networking platform for short video creation, sharing, and discovery. Young people use the app to express themselves through singing, dancing, comedy, and lip-syncing, and it allows them to make videos and share them with others.</h3>
